Addison will be the first location for this concept. However, the applicant has experience in the restaurant industry, including operating a Wing Zone restaurant in Athens, Georgia. Initially, the fully-service operation will only be open from 4pm to 2am, but the owners plan to eventually expand to offer lunch. Located across the hall from the Improv, The Alley will periodically feature entertainment opportunities including trivia, karaoke, live music, board game nights, and beer/wine tasting events. Look for this new addition to the Belt Line Road dining scene to open in December. You can watch the Council's Alley discussion here and read the presentation here. Chick-fil-A to Move Across Belt Line The popular Chick-fil-A restaurant on Belt Line Road just east of Marsh Lane received the green light from Council at the October 10 meeting to build a new location on the former Capital One bank site directly across the street. The owners plan to demolish the existing building and construct a new restaurant with a two-lane drive-through. Chick-fil-A has had its restaurant at 3781 Belt Line since 1994. The restaurant owners expressed interest in expanding at their current site, but space limitations made that impossible. The new larger site will allow a significant increase in drive-through stacking, covered ordering, and pick-up areas, as well as an outdoor patio space. You can watch the Council's Chick-fil-A discussion here and read the presentation here. Joint Council / Planning & Zoning Meeting Planned for October 17 The City Council will join the Planning and Zoning Commission on October 17 at 7pm at the Addison Conference Centre following the Commission's regular meeting for a joint Comprehensive Plan Kick-off.
