Vitruvian Pond Pump Repairs To Take 2-3 Months

If you've visited Vitruvian Park lately, you may have noticed that the waterfall is not running. Unfortunately, the recirculation pumps in Vitruvian pond that pump the water for the fountains have failed and need to be replaced.

In addition to powering the waterfall, the pumps recirculate water throughout the pond to aerate it and keep the water from becoming stagnant. Stagnant water can increase algae growth which creates ideal breeding conditions for mosquitoes.

Thank you for your patience as we work to make these important repairs.
