

2024 EARTH DAY SCAVENGER HUNT

Clue One

Water, water everywhere, to wash my hands and wash my hair. Water is a very precious resource, so keeping it clean is important, of course! Addison stores its water in towers so high, they reach many stories into the sky. The next letter you seek you'll find at a tower, by a work of art entitled The Golden Hour.

Clue Two

People come to Vitruvian Park to dance and hear tunes. They sit on outside seats where they can see the moon. At this amphitheater, a letter you will discover - another step closer to solving your puzzle you will uncover.

Clue Three

Behind the big white house where Addison's mayor often sits, is a lazy river that during storms rages and spits. Near the bridge that crosses the creek, you'll find the next letter to continue your streak.

Clue Four

Help clean a park or recycle bottles and cans, you can make a difference if you have a plan. In a large park where the fountains dance, is where the next letter takes its stance. In a field where dogs run and play, your Earth Day letter will be on display.

Clue Five

Steps with poems are this park's shining star, but a beautiful sundial isn't too far. Another Earth Day letter you will discover, so grab your buddy and see what you can uncover. Your journey takes you through a neighborhood, so to the residents please be good.

Clue Six

Located in a meadowy neighborhood. Your next letter will inspire you to do some good. If you see kids playing be sure to say hello, this park is a central place for them to learn and grow.

Clue Seven

The earth is our home, so blue and so green. So let's do our part to keep the earth clean. Something else green, you'll find on a trail. This public art piece by Nic Noblique is a work of art down to the last detail. Located off Proton is the letter you need, so head to the spot but please don't speed.

Clue Eight

Find your letter at this park on the belt that is green. Directly across from where you pump iron on machines. Never run out of ways to play in this space. From pickleball to tennis, you are guaranteed to be in great shape.
